

PRO BONO SPOTLIGHT

May 2019 - Amanda Robinson

We would like to recognize Amanda Robinson, named partner at Long & Robinson, LLC. As the daughter of a Vietnam veteran, Amanda is an extremely dedicated volunteer attorney with Military Matters, having spent more than 40 hours helping veterans and active duty military personnel.

Amanda has taken several Military Matters cases in the areas of family law and criminal law. One case that has made an impact on her is when she was able to help a Vietnam veteran who was facing a rather serious gun charge. It took many meetings and court appearances in order to resolve the issue with a favorable plea offer.

Amanda is happy to be a Military Matters volunteer attorney because she knows she is making a difference in the lives of her clients, and her clients are always so thankful.

Amanda is passionate about giving back to her community along with her participation in Military Matters. She represents juveniles and serves as a court appointed Guardian ad Litem in Jackson County, MO, volunteers for Legal Aid of Western Missouri's Warrant Relief Program, helps with the Truman Heartland Community Foundation and volunteers with Big Brothers Big Sisters. Amanda also has spoken at Continuing Legal Education programs that focus on pro bono representation. She has been recognized for her outstanding pro bono efforts by receiving KCMBAs' Robert C. Welch Volunteer Attorney Project Award, Shook, Hardy & Bacon, LLP's William G. Zimmerman Pro Bono Award, and the Helping Hands Give Hope Award from the City Union Mission.

Amanda has made a significant impact in so many lives, through Military Matters and in the community. When Amanda isn't volunteering, she can be found fishing, traveling or reading. Military Matters is very lucky to have such a compassionate and devoted volunteer.
